POETRY.

TO A LOCK OF HAIR.

Bright, soft, and glossy lock,
Wilt thou (memento) through life's troubled sea,
Oh! wilt thou thus forever be to me,
Headless of years, so beautiful and free
From Time's rude shock?

Yes, for no angry breath
Shall visit thee within thy little cell;
No, nor a threatening cloud where thou dost dwell,
Shall come, in a tattle whispering to tell
Of grief and death.

Rest in this case, no mock
Or playful jeer shall bid thee to depart
From out the gold-bound dwelling where thou art,
Or e'er erase thy memory from my heart,
Lock and lock.

TO THE WOODBINE.

How gracefully around you twined bower
The spiral woodbine twines its slender stem,
Blushing with many a bright and starry gem,
Shedding the sweetness of its fragrant flower!
Around and round its pliant tendrils twine,
Like a fond infant, longing to be prest
More closely to its mother's teeming breast,
With pure affection's sympathy divine.
How modestly to each soft breeze it quivers,
Basking its dewy eyelids in the sun,
Bathing its pearls in the moon,
Until the winter comes, and then it withers!
Affection thus, around the heart most cherished,
Twines till the loved or loving one hath perished.

THE GREAT ST. BERNARD.

A few yards from the Hospice itself stands the charnel-house, a low square building, distinguished only as to its exterior by a massy grated window. Here repose, and have reposed for centuries, the bodies or bones of all those who have met their fate on this mountain, from frost or accident. Decomposition goes on, of course, very slowly here, and though the floor of this apartment is covered to some depth with confused bones, yet the bodies which still stand against the walls, or lie reclined in great numbers, are in a state of wonderful preservation; the flesh still remaining upon the bones, has the appearance of shrivelled parchment, and, notwithstanding the number of bodies, the nicest sense of smelling could detect nothing offensive. But the eye is the organ that is offended upon entering this dead-house: the teeth, and hair, and even eyes, still remain upon all that have not actually fallen to pieces, and the expression of the countenance, yet more horrible in death, is still there which it had in the moment of dissolution. The more general expression is that of grinning (the effect of extreme cold upon the jaws); but there are some faces among them not to be overlooked, which give horrible evidence of the acutest suffering. There is one corpse, in particular, of a woman enfolded in her arms her infant child; she is in a kneeling attitude, and the expression in the face of the dead betrays the most extreme mental anguish that could be conceived. Even in death the child is folded to the breast with a mother's last grasp, and it never was attempted to loosen it. In the centre of the room, upon a shell a little elevated, lies the last victim of death in his winding-sheet. The body at present there is that of a servant who died some years ago—there being no other burial place even for the domestics of the Hospice. The monks themselves are, of course, buried in the vaults of their chapel.

The fraternity consists of fifteen persons, including a principal; their ranks are supplied, in case of death, from the priesthood of the canton below, and though it would seem to be a change for the worse, yet it is looked upon as promotion to become a brother of the convent. The brethren are obliged to go down at intervals to recruit themselves in the valley, either at St. Pierre or Martigny, for otherwise it has been found that the human frame is incapable of standing such a continued siege of frost. Certainly, the existence of such an institution as this, and the fact that men can be found to live under it, speaks highly for humanity; for, in fact, what higher effort of philanthropy can be carried? The monks seem to spend the greater part of their day in prayer, and service appeared to be constantly going forward in their chapel. Their profession of faith is Catholic; but by their creed what it may, these ecclesiastics seem to comprehend the true spirit, and practise the best part of religion, "love towards one another." For the entertainment of their guests no charge whatever is made by these hospitable men, and from the poorer or larger class no remuneration of any kind is expected. There is, indeed, fitted up in the vestibule of the chapel, a box (having in its lid a small aperture) "for the benefit of the unfortunate," and it is usual for the richer visitors to testify their gratitude in this way; but even if the proceeds of this collection were applied towards supporting the expenses of the establishment, they would supply a very inadequate fund indeed. Provisions and even fire-wood are forwarded from Martigny, of course with great labor and at considerable expense; and for such purposes the mules and servants of the society are under the necessity of descending the mountain every day. There is always an average number of guests to entertain, for even if the weather be too unfavorable for travellers to make the pass, then the persons already there are snored up, and must of course be fed and catered for during their stay. The truth is, such an establishment is not, and never could be, maintained by the chance contributions of any passing strangers: a tax is laid in the first place upon the inhabitants of the Valais, perhaps in the shape of provisions; and secondly, it is supported by bequests and the liberal donations of patriotic individuals.

STONE HOUSE:

IN LOWELL.

This elegant Mansion is now open for the reception of Boarders and Strangers. The "Stone House" needs no recommendation to those who have frequently visited it. It stands on the southern bank of the Merrimack River, about a quarter of a mile from the business part of the town of Lowell, fronting on the main road leading from Lowell westward, and having a Piazza in rear which immediately overlooks "Pawtucket Falls," and commands a delightful and extensive prospect up and down the River.

No situation in this country combines greater advantages for a Summer residence, or resort of parties of pleasure. To many it will be some recommendation at this season, that excellent Salmon are taken in the Falls at this place. The admirers of mechanics and Western Enterprise will find it a most important and interesting of the Manufacturing towns in New England. The lovers of natural scenery will remember its elevated, cool and commanding site, perfectly secluded from the noise and business of the town.

The subscriber has fitted up and furnished the House at a liberal expense, and relying upon considerable experience in his business, and the utmost care and attention, hopes to be able to sustain its former reputation and meet the reasonable expectation of all who may be pleased to favor it with their patronage.

GEORGE W. LARRABEE.

Lowell, April 12, 1834.

WESSONVILLE HOTEL.

The subscriber having taken the above mentioned long and well known establishment, formerly kept by Messrs. Wesson & Esq. who has undergone a thorough repair, and been newly furnished throughout, begs leave to inform the former customers, the present customers, and all who may hereafter favor him with their patronage, that his house will be well supplied with the dainties of the season, and the will endeavor to be prepared at all times to accommodate those who may call upon him. His bar will be furnished with Choice Old Wines, Fruits, and other Refreshments.

The subscriber will be prepared to accommodate boarders for a short time, or for the season.

Carriages and Horses ready at the shortest notice, to convey stage passengers, boarders, and others. Stage passengers and others can be conveyed to and from the HOPKINTON SPRINGS, at any hour of the day—it being but a short distance, and a pleasant ride. Stages to and from Boston and New York, every day. Post Office kept at this place. Letters for boarders at the Springs, directed to this office, will be forwarded immediately.

Wessonville, Westboro', May 22, 1834.

NEWTON RAIL ROAD HOUSE.—NEWTON.

The subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and the public, that he has taken that New House, where the Boston and Worcester Railroad Cars stop, in Newton, formerly known as the "Newton House." The house has been fitted up in a good style, as any house of its class in the vicinity of Boston. The situation is pleasant, the prospect delightful, and the arrangement such as will be approved by an enlightened public.

The Larder will be constantly provided with the luxuries of the season, the Bar stocked with the choicest Wines, Liquors, &c. &c. and no pains will be spared to make the establishment an agreeable retreat for those who may favor it with their patronage.

N. B. Military, Fire and Social companies accommodated at short notice.

The Stables and outhouses are very commodious—being built expressly for the accommodation of the Team and Driver, who are invited to call—as they will find the best of attention.

Persons coming in the Rail Road Cars, can have Breakfast at half past six o'clock, A. M.

JOHN DAVIS.

CHELSEA HOUSE.

The Subscriber would inform his friends and the public generally, that he will continue to entertain at the above establishment, and having made improvements in the same, he would be glad to merit a continuance of patronage from the numerous visitors of this pleasant and fashionable resort. Its location renders it a delightful residence for boarders, especially during the warm weather, and the convenience of its accommodations, the charming prospect from its observatory, and the cool and refreshing breezes that distinguish it in summer, render it a very pleasant retreat for those in pursuit of health or pleasure.

Every attention will be paid to those who may visit this establishment, and no pains spared to make a pleasant and agreeable resort to such as may honor him with their patronage.

Chelsea, May 24, 1834.—tf

WORCESTER RAILROAD RESTAURANT.

The Subscriber would inform his friends and the public, that he has taken the above named establishment, which is put in complete order for the reception of company. Great care has been taken to engage good attendance in every department, for the convenience of those who may honor him with their company.

N. B. The situation is well known to need a description, it being one of the most pleasant and fashionable places of resort within the vicinity of Boston.

Hingham, May 12. tf

THURSDAY, JUNE 5, 1834.

Politeness.—The Bankites are the very "pinks of propriety." All their opposition to the general administration springs from their love of refined civility. In the first instance they complained that General Jackson was not an accomplished gentleman, that he bowed without turning out his toes, and drank Hock from a white glass—that his friends were "men of yesterday," and were not up to the genteel thing at all—in consequence Davy Crockett became disgusted, left the Jackson party, and went over to those with whose manners and feelings his own habits and disposition were more congenial. The Jackson men turned a few of the Bankites out of office—this was very unmanly. The Bank undertook to support its distressed partisans with the people's money, and to buy up such as offered themselves "like cattle in the market," as Webb said, to do its bidding. This General Jackson thought a little out of the way, and asked those whose duty it was, to look into the matter—this again was thought most awfully impolite. Mr Biddle believed that not only the money of the people, but the people themselves, belonged to him, and that he had a right to control them and theirs as suited his pleasure, and to defend this right he was justified in using any means he might deem proper to counteract their efforts to find out how he was employing their property. The Representatives of the people appointed a committee to wait upon his Majesty, at his Palace in Philadelphia, and inquire of his Royal Highness about the state of a few millions of dollars which were once supposed to belong to the inhabitants of these United States, and which were some years ago placed under his care; but the Democratic Committee not being acquainted with the Court etiquette, were refused all communication with his Serene Majesty, (who sat in his marble palace "calm as a summer's morning," on account of their republican vulgarity, and were obliged to return to Washington without accomplishing the purposes of their visit. The President and Senate of the U. States appointed a gentleman as a Director in King Biddle's institution, and he accordingly presented himself at the Board of its Branch in New York, exhibiting his official credentials from the Government of the United States of America, a power somewhat known, but was denied the privilege of participating in the business before the Board, because orders had not been received from his Majesty at Philadelphia, to admit any one upon the simple appointment of the President and Senate of the United States, agreeably to what are called the laws of the aforesaid States. Thus the reader will perceive the absolute importance of the establishment throughout the country of Bank etiquette, if he would have every thing in our political horizon "calm as a summer's morning." ALL MAIL-KING NICK!

A little too much of "Reform."—The New Hampshire Courier recommends a reduction of $12,000 annually in the salaries of the public officers in that State. The best of the joke is, that the whole amount of salaries now paid from the treasury, exclusive of the salaries of the Judges of the Superior Court, which are regulated by the constitution and cannot be changed by the Legislature, is five hundred dollars less than the sum to be saved by the proposed retrenchment.

A Mr David Odell, who was afflicted with St Vitus' dance, and much addicted to liquor, committed suicide in Monticello, (N. Y.) recently, in consequence of being denied an improper quantity of spirit. He prepared for the deed with the utmost deliberation, fixing the razor in such a manner that it could not shut, and sharpening it to the keenest edge, and in the presence of some of the members, of the family where he boarded, he deliberately stood before the looking glass and inflicted the deadly gash, severing the wind-pipe and arteries; staggering back a few paces, he fell, with his head into the fire, the blood spouting out in every direction. He was a native of Connecticut, where he has a father residing.

The Theatres have been rather dull for some weeks past. The Tremont benefits have turned out bad—the stock actors, who deserve the best, generally receive the worst. The Warren is cooling off with the "Ice Queen."

The Athenæum Gallery, although the number of visitors has not yet been so large as usual, owing to the inclemency of the weather, will be the centre of attraction as soon as Sol wears a steady smile.

The Artist's Exhibition has been completely successful—let 'em try again.

Musicians. Our friend Greenwood is planting his peas and potatoes in the country, while his Androids are hammering upon their bells in Court street, and Master Tyleston teaching his little 'uns to spell. The Music at the State Museum is praised by all who hear it; the warm weather yesterday started the vegetation upon "the plantation" very much, and the "negro funeral" made considerable progress.

It is stated in the National Gazette, that EDWARD D. INGRAM, Esq. of Philadelphia, has been nominated by the President as a Director of the Bank of the U. States, in the place of HENRY HORN, Esq. whose appointment was not confirmed by the Senate.

A naval officer on the Norfolk (Va.) station, has written a tragedy, which is to be produced by the "Theatricals of Norfolk." The scene is principally on the shores of the Mediterranean, and its plot is said to be laid with considerable ingenuity.

Unequivocal.—An editor in Connecticut, says that the "seven plagues of Egypt with the Asiatic cholera to boot, could not have inflicted a greater curse upon the body physical, than have the acts and doings of the Legislature upon the body politic of that State."

The editors of a Wig paper in Providence announce that they have "come to the conclusion to throw their papers into the market, daily." We see no objections to the plan—they may "go ahead."

In the District, Eastern Shore of Maryland, made vacant by the death of Littleton P. Dennis, Mr Steele, has been elected by a majority of about 100 votes over Stuart.

A writer in the Pee Dee Gazette occupies half a column of that paper in attempting to prove the impropriety of "chewing tobacco in the house of God."

Seraps From Antiquity.

Xenophon got so little from his churlish countrymen, though he conducted the wonderful retreat of the ten thousand, that he found himself necessitated to engage in the service of Seuthes, King of Thrace, and to sell his horse.

When Alexander's men mutilated, and he could not quiet them by gentle means, he sprung from his tribunal, seized with his own hands twelve of the most outrageous, and delivered them to his generals to be put to death. The rest returned to their duty.

When Mahommed Almanzor saw his army on the point of betaking themselves to flight, he dismounts, sits down with his arms across, and declares his determination not to fly like a coward, happen what would; that if his army chose to leave him in the hands of his enemies, they might. Shame prevailed over fear.

Romulus was so desirous of peopling his kingdom, that he admitted into Rome all sorts of people, even the most wicked. Yet there was not one paricide in Rome for 600 years, nor, according to some authors, one divorce (though every husband might put away his wife at pleasure) in 500 years. But they had censors, and the senate gave a constant attention to the behaviour of the people.

It is impossible, says Plato, that both riches and virtue should be held in supreme estimation in a state.—One or the other will prevail; and according as one or the other prevails, the security or the ruin of the state is confirmed.

The name of the "South Foxboro" Post Office, of which Mr T. M. George is Postmaster, has been changed to "Foxboro Centre."

The communication in yesterday's Post should have been signed BOYD REILLY, and not "Boyd Keiley."

The Pennsylvania Enquirer and the Daily Courier, two Bank papers published in Philadelphia, have been united.

Roberts Vaux, Esq, has declined accepting the appointment of Government Director of the United States Bank.

So long ago as the year 1819, the committee appointed by Congress to examine the affairs of the U. S. Bank, recommended that a seire facias should be issued against that institution—such were the gross violations of its charter, which at that time were detected. The iniquities of the mammoth at that period of its infamy, must have been as mole-hills to mountains, compared with its present depravity. It had not at that time begun to "buy men like cattle in the market"—it had not dared openly to throw the corrupt influence of its vast treasures into the field of political controversy—it had not bought up the strongest presses of the country—it had not settled pensions upon many of the principal lawyers and statesmen of the country, to secure their services in aid of its anti-republican designs—it had not availed itself of its tremendous power to tyrannize over and oppress the defenceless people of the republic—it had not placed itself in an attitude of audacious defiance of the laws of Congress and the positive conditions of its charter—AS IT HAS SINCE DONE.—Salem Advertiser.

Brattleboro May 30.—Destructive Freshet.—After a few days of warm and dry weather, we experienced on Sunday afternoon of this week, a succession of the most tremendous showers that have ever been known in this part of the country. The stream which empties into Connecticut River, at this village, though not so high as it has sometimes been, rose with a rapidity perfectly unprecedented. The roads in this town are badly cut up and several bridges are carried away. But in Guilford the town south of us, the storm seems to have spent its greatest fury. All the bridges upon the Broad Brook are, it is said, carried away, except one, and the injury done to roads, and in many cases to farms in washing away the soil, is immense. In addition, the saw and grist mills at the East Village are, we learn, entirely carried off, and much damage done to other works on the same stream. If a water spout had burst over the space in which these showers took place, it could hardly have caused a more sudden or more destructive deluge.—Messenger.

The steambot Suffolk was got off Long Island and came up last night, bringing a number of persons who landed there on Monday. We learn from the Advertiser, that Mr Domingo, with a laudable zeal, yesterday made an excursion down the harbor, starting at nine o'clock in the morning, and returning about six o'clock, P. M., visiting Nantasket beach and roads, the light-house, and all the islands, and returning with about 14 young men and boys, whose parents and friends were under great apprehension for their safety. It is believed that of the great number of boats which had gone below on Election day, all have been heard from, and that no lives have been lost, although many of the persons suffered considerably from exposure to the violence of the wind and sea. Many of the boats have been left on the islands. The Suffolk sustained no damage. She drifted on shore in consequence of using a small anchor—there not being hands enough on board to man the large one.—Trans.

Warning to Young Married Folks.—The night before last (says the New York Transcript) a young couple on their "marriage jaunt," from the South, arrived at the American Hotel. After refreshing themselves, the happy pair retired to rest at an early hour.—In their hurry however, they unfortunately left the candle burning on the toilet, which being near to the window, the curtains took fire, and from thence the flames soon spread to the bed in which they lay, as yet insensible of their perilous situation; nor were they awakened from their slumbers, until the mattresses, the pillows, and the curtains, were in a blaze around them.—The gentleman, who was very much burnt, gave the alarm. In an instant several persons rushed into the room, rescued the lady, threw the burning furniture out of the windows, and soon succeeded in damping the flames.

New Orleans seems to be sorely afflicted with murders, cruelties, robberies, and embezzlements, in which some of the most respectable of her citizens are implicated, whose fame heretofore has been above the reach of slander, and whose name alone was a "tower of strength." These remarks are elicited by seeing in the late papers of that place the arrest of the cashier and two clerks of the Consolidated Association Bank of that city, charged with appropriating the funds of the concern to their own use. They each gave security in the sum of $25,000, but have since decamped, confirming the suspicions that had already been raised against them. Thus have men destroyed their reputation, and heaped obloquy on the heads of kindred and friends, for the purpose of making displays beyond their means, which is the rock on which too many have already split.—N. Y. Star.

Baltimore, May 31, 1834.—United States Insurance Company.—An injunction having been prayed for and granted by the Baltimore County Court, to arrest the further proceedings of the President and Directors of this Company, it was agreed between the Council on both sides, that Trustees or receivers be appointed by the Court to take charge of the concern for the equal benefit of creditors. This morning the Court appointed the trustees, who it is understood have accepted the trust.—Patriot.

Latest from New Granada.—By the brig Athenian, Capt Chapman, we have advices from Bogota to the 25th April.

A letter of that date to the editors of this paper states that for the last ten days great fears had been entertained of a new revolution. The guards were doubled at all the posts. At the time the letter was written, the alarm had chiefly subsided.

From the Equator.—A letter from Ibarra states that the troops of Gen. Rocafuerte occupied Cuenca near the close of February, after a bloody conflict in which the company composing the garrison was reduced to 14 men. The same letter informs us that news was daily arriving of the misfortunes of President Flores at Guayaquil, that his troops were suffering greatly by sickness, and that it was probable he would retire to Quito.—Jour. Com.

Bogota, May 2.—We have peace and quietness here, and the Congress is engaged in revising their tariff, which will be greatly reduced on American productions, and it is contemplated to go in force the 31st July next. The Secretary of the Treasury, Mr Soto, and Mr Pantoja, minister of foreign relations here, have both tendered their resignations to the President. Gen. Gomez, Col. Rodriguez, and two others, were this morning condemned by a court martial to be shot, for attempting to assassinate Capt Diaz a few night's since.

Emigrants at Quebec.—Our intelligence from Quebec is down to the 27th of May, at which time there had arrived during the present season, no less than five thousand five hundred and thirty-eight emigrant passengers, and there were at Grosse Isle, below, fifteen barques and brigs with an additional number of over three thousand, making the total over eight thousand.—At the same date last year the number of emigrants amounted only to one thousand one hundred and nine.—Com. Adm.

From Barbadoes.—We have received a file of the Barbadian to the 17th of May. The subject of negro emancipation continues to furnish topics of discussion for all the West India papers—and divers views are taken in the respective islands, and such legislation adopted as is deemed to comport most nearly to their local interests—but we perceive in no case a disposition to resist or evade the act of parliament on that subject.—Ibid.

Naval.—The Delaware, March, and the frigate United States were at Mahon 19th 74, all well. The Vandalia was at Pensacola, 14th May. The St Louis sailed from Kingston, Jan. 5th May for the Mexican Coast. The Falmouth was at Pensacola 4th of May. The Natchez was at Rio 9th April. The Ontario at Montevideo same date. The Boxer at Rio April 13th.

Mails.—For the Mediterranean, can be sent by a vessel to sail from New York the 10th of June, and by a store-ship from Norfolk for Mahon, between the 15th and 25th of June.

For the Coast of Brazil by the barque Cornelia, to sail from New York for Rio in the course of ten days.

Also, for the Pacific, the 10th of each month, as usual, from New York, by the way of Kingston, Jamaica.

City Affairs.—At a meeting of the Mayor and Aldermen on Monday:—

Richard Child, Joseph Lewis, Aaron P. Cleveland, Daniel Hinchman, Alvan Simonds, Henry Edwards, Josiah Pierce, Moses Wheeler, and Charles F. Barnard Esquires, were chosen Directors of the House of Industry, in concurrence with the Common Council.

Alfred Whitcomb was chosen Foreman, Francis Curtis 1st Assistant, and Charles Trumbull Clerk of the Board of Street No. 10.

Monday, half past 8 o'clock P. M. was assigned for the choice of City and County Treasurer.

The Board concurred with the Common Council in the order fixing the salaries of the City and County officers, with sundry amendments.

National Convention.—The majority of the Democratic papers, throughout the Union, appear to be decidedly favorable to a National Convention, for the nomination of candidates for President and Vice President, and have resolved to stand uncommitted towards any of the prominent candidates, until the voice of such a convention shall have been heard. This is, in our opinion, the only sure way of coming at the wishes of the people, who being represented by delegates from each State, will so instruct those delegates as to cause their feelings on the subject to be distinctly and freely promulgated. We are, therefore, for a National Convention, in preference to partial State juries, for the nomination of the two highest offices in the gift of the people.—Phil. Orb.

Death by Drowning.—On Wednesday last, Amos Cutler, of Shrewsbury, aged about 35, a man under guardianship in consequence of his intemperate and thriftless habits, escaped from the House of Correction in this town, where he had been confined for a short time past. On discovering that he was gone, Captain Clark, the Keeper, went in pursuit of him, and found him in the easterly part of the town, near Long Pond. Finding that he was pursued, Cutler attempted to swim across the pond, but he sunk exhausted when within about twenty rods of the opposite shore, and as it was impossible to afford him any relief, he was drowned.—His body was found on Friday morning.—Worcester Spy.

The Journeymen Hatters, of Philadelphia, have done themselves much credit in presenting a beautiful specimen of their manufacture to our worthy Chief Magistrate. No class of Mechanics, have, we believe, suffered more from the persecutions of the Bankites, than the journeymen hatters. For nobly daring to sustain their own opinions, they have been driven from employ by tens, and scores of tens; but true to the principles of '76, the more they are persecuted, the stronger becomes their resolution to maintain their rights unflinchingly, and the present they have just made to Gen. Jackson, will raise them in the estimation of every freeman.—Phil. Orb.

At Philadelphia, on Sunday evening the 25th ult., at the residence of his daughter, Sarah Kurtz, Major John Polhemus, aged 94 years, exactly. During the time that tried our Fathers, Major Polhemus raised and fully equipped a Company at his own expense—joined and fought with Washington, at the ever memorable Battle of Trenton—was at the Battles of Monmouth, Germantown, Paoli, and Brandywine, and up to the hour of his death, received no recompense whatever, further than a miserable pension; but was indebted in a great measure for the comforts he enjoyed to the kindness of his children.

The Phoenix Bank makes a proposition to the other city banks to receive in the daily exchange from them all notes issued by any bank in this state at their par value, provided they will keep with it a special deposit sufficient to cover the amount of capital employed, and to meet the expenses incurred. The proposal is in effect an offer to assume the agency of bringing about a reform of the currency that may be very easily achieved, and which would be of incalculable value to the community.—N. Y. Times.

The schr. Mexico, commanded by Capt. James Almeida, and engaged in the Mexican trade, which disappeared so mysteriously some months since, is thus accounted for, by a New Orleans paper—the captain and cabin passengers of that vessel were murdered by three Italians who were on board, and that she was afterwards scuttled and abandoned by them somewhere on the Spanish Main.

Rail Roads in England.—There is now building in England what they term "The Great Western Railroad" which is to connect London and Bristol. Another is building between London and Southampton—another from London to Greenwich—another from London to Birmingham—another from Hull to Shelly—and the Northern Union Railroad.

There is this singularity respecting Kean, Mrs Siddons, and G. F. Cooke, that each of them, though under very different circumstances, appeared in London and created no sensation.—(in Kean's case it was clearly impossible for want of opportunity)—each, after a lapse of years returned, and at a time held all the dramatic world in chains. Mrs Siddons was (season 1775, during Garrick's management) in London and failed; in 1782 (after Garrick's death) she made her great hit. Cooke (and this fact is less known) appeared in either 1777 or 1778 at the Haymarket, as Castalio in "The Orphan"—he failed entirely. Cooke was then just of age, and Henderson had made, a little while before him, a strong impression, and was getting up his name as the legitimate successor of Garrick. "What could induce Cooke to attempt a part for which his figure, face and manner were so peculiarly unfitted, it is impossible to imagine!" I remember hearing this remark made by Quick, who first told me of Cooke's having made this unsuccessful essay; and it is odd enough that Quick, in his boyish dramatic mania, had appeared as Altamont in the "Fair Penitent" (1767) at the Haymarket, and failed most egregiously, which those who remember his face, voice and figure, may easily imagine.

Mrs Siddons had a lapse of seven years between her failure and success. Kean passed eight years after leaving the Haymarket ere he appeared at Drury. But poor Cooke, after his Haymarket effort, was provincializing twenty-two years before he took the town by storm, being, when he again appeared, the same age that Kean was when he died.

A letter from Washington, written on Sunday last, says—

"I would just add, by way of news, and am sorry to add it, that Speaker Stevenson is quite ill to day; and will not probably be able to take the chair to-morrow morning to announce his resignation; but he will doubtless send it in."

The ship Eliza, of 850 tons, Captain Crouch, left London on the 26th of April, for New York, with two hundred and fifty passengers; consisting chiefly of farmers with their families from Suffolk and Norfolk, well supplied with money for purchasing and tilling land in America.

The Strathfieldsay, chartered by the Emigration Committee, was to sail from Gravesend on the 1st May, with two hundred and ninety young women, of good character, for Hobartstown, New South Wales.

Commerce of New York.—The following is a correct statement of foreign arrivals at the port of New York, for the time mentioned below, viz:

From the 1st January to the 31st May, 1833, 751 arrivals. From the 1st January to the 31st May, 1834, 795, giving an excess for this year of 44 foreign arrivals. Among these were six cargoes of Dry Goods, and three from the East Indies, more than in 1833.—Gaz.

Foot Race.—Yesterday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, Mr C. W. Clauser, according to previous notice, commenced the undertaking of performing on foot the distance of 12 miles in 80 minutes, which he performed, as we understand, with ease, in 78 minutes. The ground over which he passed was from the corner of Fourteenth street and the Bowery, to Harlem bridge and back.—N. Y. Gaz.

Destructive Fire at Batavia.—Colonel Elliott informs us that the following way-bill endorsement, by the Post Master at Batavia, was received at the Albany Post Office last evening—"One quarter of this village is totally destroyed by fire—all is confusion here"—Albany Eve. Jour. of Monday.

The Arch Street Theatre opens this evening for a summer season. Many novelties are promised; among others, Major Jack Downing. Blake, the original in Boston is engaged to perform the character here.—The House opens with Scott's Sir Edward Mortimer.—Pennsylvanian.

The building at New Orleans, in which the city Courts held their sittings, has been destroyed by fire.—The books, papers and records have been saved. The fire was communicated from the adjoining house occupied by Mr Orin, druggist, which was also destroyed.

The young man who was drowned on Saturday, was named Oliver Wood, a native of Woodstock, Vermont. The body has not yet been found, and it is supposed that it has floated down the river, and will be discovered below.—Lowell Journal.

A New Counterfeit.—Counterfeit ten cent pieces are in circulation. The impression of the die is pretty good, but they are said to resemble pewter in appearance and touch, and therefore may readily be distinguished from the real hard money article.

A Mr Bush, of Ohio, on his way from Baltimore when within a mile of Frederick, was robbed by two men of his pocket book, containing one thousand dollars. A reward of three hundred dollars is offered for their apprehension.

The village of Washington, Pa., is in a prosperous way according to the Reporter, a paper published in that place—there having been on Tuesday morning of last week about one dozen weddings within its limits.—Four families furnished all the brides.

A Convention of sixty members assembled at Nashville, Tennessee, on the 19th inst. "For the purpose of revising, amending, altering the present, or forming a new Constitution." Gen. William B. Carter was chosen President of the Convention.

The American Peace Society offer a prize of $1,000 for the best treatise on a congress of nations for the prevention of war. Communications will be received until the 20th of June.

The Newburyport Herald has passed from Wm. S. Allen, into the hands of Joseph S. Morse, and Wm. H. Brewster.

Mr Obed Marcy has prepared a history of the Island of Nantucket, with a particular account of the Whale Fishery from the U. States.

THE LAST SUPPER.—The Proprietor of this Magazine, Copy, in Wm. of the LORD'S SUPPER, respectfully informs the public that at the suggestion of many individuals, the Exhibition, hereafter, will be open at the MASONIC TEMPLE, EVERY EVENING.

By this arrangement an opportunity to witness this beautiful specimen of Art, will be afforded to those whose occupations preclude the possibility of attending such Exhibitions during the day.

Hours of Exhibition from 11 A. M. till 1 P. M.; from 5 till 6 P. M. and from 7 till 9 P. M.

The room will be open for visitors from 6 till 9 o'clock P. M. on SUNDAY EVENINGS.

Tickets of admission, 25 cents—Season Tickets 50 cents to be had at the Door. may 30

A CARD.—A wanton and malicious attack having been made on the character of the subscriber, by the Editors of the Traveller on the 20th ult, in which he is charged with violating the confidence of parents and guardians, and with crimes too odious to be named. He begs to assure the public that he desires nothing so much as an investigation of his conduct. He appeals to his pupils to say whether or not in his intercourse with them, he exceeded the bounds of gentlemanly courtesy. The Law must decide upon his reputation, and in the mean while he must say to those who may think he intrudes too much upon their attention, that the magnitude of the injury he has received, makes it impossible for him to rest quiet under the breach of unfeigned clammy. JAMES WORSTER. Boston, June 4, 1834.

NOTICE.—An adjourned meeting of the Convention of the TRADES' UNION of Boston and vicinity will be held at Trades' Union Hall, Harvard place, THIS EVENING, June 5, at 8 o'clock.

N. B. As business of importance will come before the Convention a punctual attendance of the Delegates is requested. JAMES D. MORGAN, Rec. Sec.
